

HB 1342 -- Conservator's Investment in Property

Sponsor: Portwood

This bill allows a conservator to invest money from an estate in real or personal property unless the court makes a finding on the record that the investment is not reasonable and prudent. The investment advisor retained by the conservator must acknowledge in writing that he or she is acting as a fiduciary and the account will be managed as a fiduciary account.