

HB 177 -- Court Records for Sexual Offenses

Sponsor: Cox

Currently, a victim of sexual assault, domestic assault, stalking, or forcible rape is protected from being identified by having his or her name redacted from the public record prior to disclosure to the public. This bill specifies that the identity protections for a victim do not apply to the perpetrator of these crimes.