22 development and that are not available to the public generally, or to individuals who seek 23 benefits primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. “Governmental economic 24 incentives” may include, but are not limited to, such things as the foregoing or forgiveness 25 of taxes, reduction of tax rates, tax credits, tax deductions, abatement of official fees and 26 charges, provision for payments in lieu of taxes, rights to use eminent domain powers,

39 the death of such child or consented to another person causing the death of such child; or

40 (b) A living child, if the intended or likely result of such taking or utilization is to 41 kill or cause harm to the health, safety, or welfare of such child, or if the purpose is to 42 target such child for possible destruction in the future;

43 (9) “Public funds”, include the following moneys and shall retain their status as 44 public funds until such moneys are expended, wholly or in part, for or in furtherance of 45 the purpose or project for which they were provided:

47 department, division, agency, public entity, political subdivision, public corporation, or 48 quasi-public corporation thereof including, but not limited to, moneys derived from 49 federal, state, or local taxes; gifts or grants from any source; settlements of any claims or 50 causes of action, public or private; bond proceeds; federal grants or payments; or 51 intergovernmental transfers; or

52 (b) Any moneys received or controlled by any person or entity pursuant to 53 appropriation by the general assembly or appropriation by the governing body of any

54 public entity, political subdivision, public corporation, or quasi-public corporation of this 55 state;

56 (10) "Research project", research proposed to be funded by an award of public 57 funds or to be supported by governmental economic incentives, conducted under the 58 auspices of the entity or entities that applied for and received such award or economic 59 incentives, regardless of whether the research is funded or supported in whole or in part 60 by such award or economic incentives. The types of such research may include basic 61 research, including the discovery of new knowledge; translational research, including 62 translational knowledge in a usable form; and clinical research including, but not limited 63 to, health research in human development and aging, cancer, endocrine disease, 64 cardiovascular disease, neurological diseases, pulmonary disease, and infectious diseases.

188.178. Neither public funds nor governmental economic incentives shall be 2 expended, paid, provided, granted, or authorized to or for the benefit of an existing or 3 proposed research project or an existing or proposed economic incentive project that 4 involves abortion services, human cloning, or prohibited human research. A research 5 project or economic incentive project that receives public funds or governmental economic 6 incentives shall not share costs with another project, person, or entity that is not eligible
7 to receive public funds or governmental economic incentives under this section, but a 8 research project or economic incentive project that receives an award of public funds or 9 governmental economic incentives may pay a pro rata share of facilities and administrative 10 costs determined in the award of public funds or governmental economic incentives 11 according to standards that ensure that public funds and governmental economic 12 incentives do not in any way subsidize facilities and administrative costs of other research 13 projects, economic incentive projects, persons, or entities that are not eligible to receive 14 public funds or governmental economic incentives under this section. The application for 15 an award of public funds or for governmental economic incentives shall set forth the 16 proposed rates of pro rata cost reimbursement and shall provide supporting data and 17 rationale for such rates. All applicants for and recipients of awards of public funds and 18 governmental economic incentives shall comply with the cost accounting principles set 19 forth in 48 CFR 9905, or successor regulations, in connection with the application for and 20 administration of the research project. All moneys derived from an award of public funds
21 shall be expended only by checks, drafts, or electronic transfers using a separate account 22 maintained for such public funds. No moneys derived from an award of public funds and 23 no portion of governmental economic incentives shall be used to cover costs for, or shall 24 be shared with, any other research project, economic incentive project, person, or entity 25 that is not eligible to receive public funds or governmental economic incentives under this 26 section. No moneys derived from an award of public funds and no benefits of 27 governmental economic incentives shall be passed through to any other research project, 28 person, or entity unless such pass-through was described in the original application for the 29 award of public funds or in subsequent amendments or requests to use separate 30 contractors, and such pass-through was approved. A research project that receives an 31 award of public funds and governmental economic incentives shall maintain financial 32 records that demonstrate strict compliance with this section. Any audit conducted 33 pursuant to any grant or contract awarding public funds shall also certify whether there 34 is compliance with this section and shall note any noncompliance as a material audit 35 finding.

188.181. The provisions under sections 188.175 to 188.190 shall inure to the benefit
2 of all residents of this state. Any taxpayer of this state or any political subdivision of this 3 state shall have standing to bring suit against the state or any official, department, division,
4 agency, public entity, political subdivision, public corporation, or quasi-public corporation
5 of this state, and any recipient of public funds who or which is in violation of this section, 6 in any circuit court with jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this section.

188.184. Sections 188.175 to 188.190 shall not be construed to permit or make 2 lawful any conduct that is otherwise unlawful under the laws of this state.

188.187. Any provision under sections 188.175 to 188.190 is not severable from any 2 appropriation under sections 188.175 to 188.190. If any provision under sections 188.175
3 to 188.190 is found to be invalid or unconstitutional, any appropriation under sections
4 188.175 to 188.190 or any appropriation declared by any court to be under sections 188.175
5 to 188.190 shall be void, invalid, and unenforceable.

188.190. Any and all records of all public funds or governmental economic 2 incentives awarded under sections 188.175 to 188.190 including, but not limited to, any and 3 all actions, meetings, communications, correspondence, votes, and deliberations to 4 determine or decide to grant or award the same; the administration and distribution of 5 such award; and the actual use of the award by the recipient shall be open and available 6 to the public under sections 610.011 to 610.200, and the awards are specifically not 7 excepted from disclosure under subdivision 15 of section 610.021 relating to scientific and 8 technological innovations, nor under subdivision 23 of section 610.021 relating to licensing 9 of intellectual property or performing sponsored research.
