

HB 2641 -- TRUTH IN SCIENCE HEALTH ACT

SPONSOR: Schroer

This bill creates the "Truth in Science and Health Act". This bill specifies that, a government entity or employee of a government entity acting in his or her official capacity can not misrepresent or disseminate any misleading or objectively false information or data related to any governmental function, policy, law, regulation, or guideline including, but not limited to, any such function, policy, law, regulation, or guideline relating to science, public health, medicine, medical devices, or administrative actions. If a government entity or its employee acting in his or her official capacity does any of the above listed things, any person can bring civil action against them.

All science, data, and supporting information used to make any decisions or rules related to public health or other administrative laws or actions must be made available to the public at the time the rules or orders are issued. If a government entity that oversees public health matters receives guidance from a nonstate actor, the government entity must immediately disclose to the public the identity of the nonstate actor and the nature of the guidance in a clear and conspicuous way.

A government entity or employee of a government entity speaking in his or her official capacity shall not use propaganda, fear, or other tactics of public manipulation including, but not limited to, the concealment of important scientific information.

Manufactures of medical devices, medicines, and vaccines must disclose all known relevant information related to their product including, but not limited to, all of the ingredients in vaccines, medicines, or other therapeutics.

This bill applies to current COVID-19 orders and rules, as well as, health orders and rules in the future.
