HB 2510 is a stealth attack on women's healthcare. The most important part of the bill, unmentioned in the description or the summary page, would be to limit women's access to legitimate, legal, and medically appropriate medical treatment. The part about licensing is just protective coloration, designed to make the bill look anodyne and boring. The sponsor, a man, will never need this kind of treatment, and will never suffer from the restrictions he wishes to impose on those who do. His attempt to slip this measure surreptitiously into a seemingly benign bill is a confession that he is ashamed of his own proposal. He should be.
