

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

Second Regular Session, 93rd GENERAL ASSEMBLY

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY, THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 2006

The House met pursuant to adjournment.

Speaker Jetton in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Donald W. Lammers.

*Today is the birthday of Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826),
In honor of Whom Jefferson City is named.
And the third president of the United States.*

A question he posed:

“... can the liberties of a nation be thought secure when we have removed their only firm basis, a conviction in the minds of the people that these liberties are of the gift of God?”

(Notes on the State of Virginia)

Let us pray.

Almighty God, we thank You that most of the people of our nation believe in You. Your Holy Spirit has placed this awareness in their minds and allowed them to experience Your presence in their lives.

Help us all, O God, to grow to a greater faith in You; so that we, like Jefferson, may recognize that You, the Creator, are the basis of our liberties, and that Your Commandments are the basis of our choices and actions.

We pray to You our God, forever and ever. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Theodore Muschany, Kramer Knipp, Jordan Esry, Andrew "Drew" Vines, Greg Fleissner, Micah Gaeddert, Jenny Baldwin, Caroline Moore, Jessica Probst, Jennifer Probst, Julia Probst and Jimmy Siettmann.

The Journal of the fifty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE
FOR
HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 1131

WHEREAS, despite its foundation on the ideals of liberty and representation in government, the United States' history of granting voting rights mirrors the struggles of other representative democracies. Voting rights spread slowly, from white male landowners to white males, to men of all races, and in the twentieth century, to women. Even after Constitutional amendments were adopted to ratify these rights, there have been instances of minority groups having to jump extra hurdles to be allowed to vote: passing literacy tests, for example. Voters have sometimes been intimidated from exercising this most basic of constitutional rights; and

WHEREAS, four decades ago, the modern civil rights movement achieved one of its greatest accomplishments when it persuaded the United States Congress and President Lyndon B. Johnson to enact the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (P.L. 89-10); and

WHEREAS, since its enactment, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 has played a major role in protecting the voting rights of African-Americans, Latinos, and people who are not fully proficient in English; and

WHEREAS, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 outlawed the requirement that would-be voters in the United States take literacy tests to qualify to register to vote, and it provided for federal registration of voters in areas that had less than 50% of eligible voters registered. The Act also provided for Department of Justice oversight to registration, and the Department's approval for any change in voting laws in districts whose populations were at least 5% African-American; and

WHEREAS, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 has been renewed many times and remains in force. It was renewed in 1970 and 1975. In 1982, Congress amended and renewed the Act for another 25 years, with some portions of the Act up for renewal in 2007; and

WHEREAS, three key portions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 will expire in 2007 unless renewed:

(1) Section 5 of the Act which requires certain jurisdictions to obtain preclearance from the Department of Justice before they can put into effect any changes to voting practices and procedures. The following states are currently impacted by Section 5 of the Act: Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Texas, and portions of Virginia, California, Florida, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York and North Carolina; and

(2) Section 203 of the Act which requires certain jurisdictions to provide bilingual language assistance to voters in communities where there is a concentration of citizens who are limited English proficient; and

(3) Portions of Sections 6 to 9 of the Act which authorize the federal government to send federal election examiners and observers to certain jurisdictions covered by Section 5 of the Act where there is evidence of attempts to intimidate minority voters at the polls; and

WHEREAS, widely viewed as the nation's most effective civil rights legislation, the Voting Rights Act of 1965 removed barriers to voting for African-Americans, Asian Americans, Latino Americans, and Native Americans; and

WHEREAS, the Act enables large numbers of minorities to register and vote, and empowers minority communities to have a greater voice concerning election of national, state, and local office holders; and

WHEREAS, the gains of the last 40 years will be severely compromised if these provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 are not renewed:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-third General Assembly, urge the United States Congress to renew the portions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 that are scheduled to expire in 2007; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 28

Relating to the naming of the George Washington Carver State Office Building.

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver was born into slavery near Diamond Grove, Missouri, sometime between July 1861 and January 1864. He was a sickly baby, soon orphaned when his mother was abducted by slave traders, and whose very survival beyond infancy defied the understanding and capabilities of the medical community at that time; and

WHEREAS, even absent a formal education, George Washington Carver's intellect and affinity for agriculture manifested themselves at an early age; and

WHEREAS, at the age of 11, George Washington Carver informed his caretakers that he was going to move to Neosho so he could attend the school for African-American children and that he would find a place where he could work in exchange for his board. He soon traveled to Neosho, alone, with nothing but the best of his rock collection, a clean shirt in a bundle slung over his shoulder, and a package of food under his arm; and

WHEREAS, by the end of 1876, George Washington Carver had learned everything the teacher at the school knew and everything in the books available to the school, and the teacher gave him a certificate of merit attesting to such fact; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver continued his education at various institutions in Kansas and Iowa, all the while taking whatever jobs allowed him to earn the money needed to continue his education, inspiring one professor to proclaim, "George Carver has come to us with a satchel full of poverty and a burning zeal to know everything"; and

WHEREAS, in 1896 Booker T. Washington pleaded with George Washington Carver to bring his intellect to Tuskegee Institute, which was founded by Washington to provide a college education for African-Americans. Booker T. Washington had come to realize that, since 85 percent of southern African-Americans were farmers, Tuskegee's greatest need was an agriculture department. George accepted, knowing that the work would be hard and the financial reward minimal; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver stressed to Tuskegee's students and the region's farmers that soil conservation through diversification of crops and crop rotation was the key to reviving soil that had become unproductive due to the long-term cultivation of cotton; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver advocated the use of legumes to replace minerals depleted from the soil by cotton crops. He advised, "Plant peanuts. That'll keep the soil productive. And the boll weevils don't attack peanuts"; and

WHEREAS, solving the problem with unproductive soil resulted in an abundant peanut crop, which could not be marketed profitably and for which there was very little use or demand. George Washington Carver soon set about discovering nearly 300 valuable uses to which the peanut could be put. During his lifetime, peanut crops developed an annual value of $200 million; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver went on to develop various paint, dyes, and medicinal treatments from peanuts, sweet potatoes, and soybeans. He even developed a synthetic rubber for Henry Ford derived from goldenrod; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver steadfastly refused to accept an increase in his $125 a month salary at Tuskegee or offers of more lucrative positions, including one from Thomas Edison that reportedly paid $100,000 a year. He also declined to patent most of his discoveries, believing that his intellect and industry were gifts from God that should be shared freely; and

WHEREAS, on July 14, 1943, a mere six months after his death, George Washington Carver's birthplace near Diamond Grove was designated as a national monument; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver popularized agricultural extension programs at American universities; can be acknowledged as the father of modern plant science; and is recognized as one of the greatest scientific minds in American history; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver overcame enormous prejudice and poverty in his struggle from being identified merely as "Carver's George" to becoming the world renowned George Washington Carver, B.S., M.S., D.Sc., Ph.D., Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, London, and Director of Research and Experiment at Tuskegee Institute, Alabama; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver accomplished all of his many great deeds without a trace of bitterness, with total indifference to personal fortune, and thought only to make the world, America in particular, a better place for all mankind; and

WHEREAS, George Washington Carver, in his modesty, once stated, "I am no great person. I am no great scientist. I have only been able to point the way in a few things. After me will come those who read and interpret the signs, the great of the world. I am only the trailblazer.":

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-Third General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby designate that the state office building located at 1616 Missouri Boulevard, Jefferson City, Missouri, shall hereinafter be known as the "George Washington Carver State Office Building"; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Governor for his approval or rejection pursuant to the Missouri Constitution, and if approved, notify the Director of the Missouri Department of Agriculture.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 29.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 29

WHEREAS, the National Forest Service is a federal agency within the United States Department of Agriculture that manages public lands in national forests and grasslands, engages in important research as the world's largest forestry research organization, and provides assistance to state and private forestry entities; and

WHEREAS, the origination of the Forest Service can be traced back to the passage of the Forest Reserve Act of 1891, which allowed presidents to establish forest reserves from timber-covered land in the public domain; and

WHEREAS, a progressive United States Congress and President Theodore Roosevelt, the most notable conservationist among all U.S. presidents deceased and living, established the Forest Service in 1905; and

WHEREAS, a primary objective of the Forest Service is to enable citizens to enjoy its 155 national forest and 20 grasslands, which collectively comprise about 8.5 percent of the total land area of the United States; and

WHEREAS, another chief goal of the Forest Service is to protect the environment for generations yet to come and manage the National Forest System for the overall benefit of the American people; and

WHEREAS, Gifford Pinchot, the first Chief of the Forest Service, summed up the mission of the Forest Service by stating that it should "provide the greatest amount of good for the greatest amount of people in the long run"; and

WHEREAS, Pinchot's vision of the Forest Service has recently been called into question by a Bush Administration proposal to possibly sell more than 300,000 acres of national forest to private owners and developers; and

WHEREAS, 21,566 acres of the Mark Twain National Forest in Missouri is under consideration for sale, which ranks Missouri fourth in the nation in most potential lost forest, behind only California, Idaho and Colorado; and

WHEREAS, Forest Service stewards have in the past participated in limited land-exchange programs but have never engaged in the outright sale of our national forests, which is undoubtedly one of our country's most precious assets; and

WHEREAS, the money raised from the sale of our national forests would be used to fund a program created by the Secure Rural Schools and Community Self Determination Act of 2000 – a program that is of little benefit to the citizens of the state of Missouri:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Senate of the Ninety-third General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby express their opposition to the Bush Administration's unprecedented proposed sale of national forest land; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we urge Missouri citizens to contact the Forest Service during its allotted time of public comment to speak out against this plan; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we ask Missouri's nine Congressmen in the U.S. House of Representatives and its two U.S. senators to use their influence to oppose the proposed sale of public lands; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copies of this resolution for U.S. Agriculture Secretary Mike Johanns, Chief of the National Forest Service Dale Bosworth, and each of Missouri's federal representatives and senators.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 32.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 32

WHEREAS, the current Federal Defense Budget does not include an allocation for the United States Air Force C-17 Globemaster III military transport plane program at Boeing St. Louis; and

WHEREAS, in 2002, Boeing dedicated a new St. Louis C-17 manufacturing facility that allowed Boeing to consolidate its major St. Louis C-17 assembly work into one facility; and

WHEREAS, today, 20 percent of all C-17 planes are manufactured at Boeing St. Louis; and

WHEREAS, the Boeing St. Louis team, the largest supplier for the C-17, produces the airlifter's cargo ramp and door, cockpit, including the flight deck, main landing gear pods, and pylons. In addition, 10,000 detail parts for the C-17 are fabricated at Boeing's strategic partner, GKN Aerospace Services - St. Louis, to deliver to Long Beach, California, and Macon, Georgia; and

WHEREAS, the new facility at Boeing St. Louis was part of a $140 million multistage plan designed to transform the Boeing St. Louis site into one of the most competitive operations in the aerospace industry; and

WHEREAS, if federal funding for this program is not included in the Federal Defense Budget, 950 jobs at Boeing St. Louis and 565 jobs at GKN Aerospace Services - St. Louis would be lost; and

WHEREAS, Boeing St. Louis is second only to Long Beach, California, in the manufacture of the C-17 Globemaster III military transport plane and has 57 suppliers across the state of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the loss of nearly 1,500 skilled aerospace jobs, occurring at the same time that the Hazelwood Ford Plant is scheduled for closure, would have a significant negative impact on the economy of St. Louis and the state of Missouri, as well as the employment and financial stability of nearly 1,500 employees in this state:
