

HB 1009 -- LICENSE RESIDENCE ADDRESS EXEMPTION

SPONSOR: Moon

Currently, Missouri law requires every application for a driver's license to provide the applicant's residence and mailing address. This bill allows current or retired county, state, or federal law enforcement officers, parole officers, federal pretrial officers, state and federal judges, or any of the above categories' immediate family members to use the address of the county courthouse in the county of his or her residence as the address on his or her license. If a license holder ceases to qualify for this exemption, he or she must apply to the Department of Revenue for the issuance of a duplicate license that displays his or her actual current residence address within 30 days.
