FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Limit on Appropriations and Income Tax Rate Reductions

Officials from the Office of the Secretary of State (SOS) provided the following response.

Each year, a number of joint resolutions that would refer to a vote of the people a constitutional amendment and bills that would refer to a vote of the people the statutory issue in the legislation may be considered by the General Assembly.

Unless a special election is called for the purpose, a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment is submitted to a vote of the people at the next general election. The Missouri Constitution authorizes the Governor to order a special election for constitutional amendments referred to the people. If a special election is called to submit a Joint Resolution to a vote of the people, state law requires the state to pay the costs. The cost of the special election has been estimated at $7.1 million based on the cost of the 2012 Presidential Preference Primary. This figure was determined through analyzing and totaling expense reports from the 2012 Presidential Preference Primary received from local election authorities.

The SOS is required to pay for publishing in local newspapers the full text of each statewide ballot measure as directed by the Missouri Constitution and state law. The SOS is provided with core funding for a certain amount of normal activity resulting from each year's legislative session. This funding is adjusted each year depending upon the election cycle, with $1.3 million historically appropriated in odd numbered fiscal years and $100,000 appropriated in even numbered fiscal years.

The funding has historically been an estimated appropriation because the final cost is dependent on the number of ballot measures approved by the General Assembly, and the initiative petitions certified for the ballot. In FY 2013, at the August and November elections, there were 5 statewide Constitutional Amendments or ballot propositions that cost $2.17 million to publish (an average of $434,000 per issue). In FY 2015, the General Assembly changed the appropriation so that it was not longer an estimated appropriation and the SOS was appropriated $1.19 million to publish the full text of the measures. Due to this reduced funding, the SOS reduced the scope of the publication of these measures. In FY 2015, at the August and November elections, there were 9 statewide Constitutional Amendments or ballot propositions that cost $1.1 million to publish (an average of $122,000 per issue). Despite the FY 2015 reduction, SOS will continue to assume, for the purposes of this fiscal note, that it should have the full appropriation authority it needs to meet the publishing requirements. Because these publications are mandatory, SOD reserves the right to request funding to meet the cost of our publishing requirements if the Governor and the General Assembly change the amount or continue to not designate it as an estimated appropriation.

Oversight has reflected in this fiscal note, the potential cost to the state of reimbursing local political subdivisions the cost of having this joint resolution voted on during a special election in fiscal year 2017. This reflects the decision made by the Joint Committee on Legislative Research, that the cost of the elections should be shown in the fiscal note. The next scheduled general election is in November 2016 (FY 2017). It is assumed the subject within this proposal could be on that ballot; however, it could also be on a special election called for by the Governor. Therefore, Oversight will reflect a potential election cost reimbursement to local political subdivisions in FY 2017.

Officials from the Office of Administration - Division of Budget and Planning (B&P) assume of this proposal will have a fiscal impact on their organization as follows.

B&P officials assume they would need to contract for certain current functions of the OA Economist to allow time to complete the resolution requirements. Contract costs are estimated to be about $50,000.

Oversight assumes these responsibilities could be absorbed with existing resources. If unanticipated costs are incurred or if multiple proposal are implemented that increase the OA workload, resources could be requested through the budget process.

B&P officials also provided the following information regarding the estimated impact of this proposal on state revenues and operations.

The General Revenue Fund would be negatively impacted by a change in the fund balance percentage requirements of the Cash Operating and Budget Reserve Funds (see table below). For the purposes of this fiscal estimate, FY 2015 data were used. The calculation also requires the use of inflation and population data. For the purposes of this fiscal estimate, that data was not adjusted for outlying fiscal years as it is not possible to estimate those factors with certainty.

Cash Operating Fund	Budget Reserve Fund	Total	Explanation
$359,760,000	$503,660,000	$863,420,000	Required balance in the funds for FY 2017 (5% and 7%) using FY 2015 data.
$373,300,000	$183,900,000	$557,200,000	Budget Reserve Fund balance to be split between the two funds.
($13,540,000)	$319,760,000	$306,220,000	Required transfer from the General Revenue Fund to the Budget Reserve Fund and Cash Operating Fund
($13,540,000)	$0	($13,540,000)	FY 2017 Required transfer from the Cash Operating Fund to the General Revenue Fund
$0	$63,950,000	$63,950,000	Required transfer from the General Revenue Fund to the Budget Reserve Fund in Years 1-5
($13,540,000)	$63,950,000	$50,410,000	Amount required to be transferred in the first year (FY 2017)

Cash Operating Fund	Budget Reserve Fund	Total	Explanation
$370,910,000	$519,270,000	$890,180,000	Required balance in the funds for FY 2018 (5% and 7%).
$359,760,000	$503,660,000	$863,420,000	Budget Reserve Fund balance to be split between the two funds.
$11,150,000	$15,610,000	$26,760,000	Required transfer from the General Revenue Fund to the Budget Reserve Fund and Cash Operating Fund
$11,150,000	$0	$11,150,000	Required transfer from the General Revenue Fund to the Cash operating Fund
$0	$3,120,000	$3,120,000	FY 2018 General Revenue Fund Transfer to Budget Reserve Fund for Year 2
$0	$63,950,000	$63,950,000	FY 2017 Required General Revenue Fund Transfer to Budget Reserve Fund in Year 2-5
$11,150,000	$67,070,000	$78,220,000	Amount required to be transferred in the second year (FY 2018)

Amounts in excess of the required balances would be transferred to the General Revenue Fund until a sufficient amount exists to reach a permanent reduction of at least one quarter of one percent of all state income tax rates. Each one quarter of one percent reduction in income tax rates would reduce state revenues by an estimated $188.4 million based on tax year 2013 data.

B&P officials assume, based on historical data, this provision would not be triggered, therefore no impact is assumed from this provision.

B&P officials noted the proposal could have an impact on the level of state services that can be provided as a result of the caps it would impose on General Revenue Fund appropriations and net General Revenue collections.

Oversight has no independent information regarding state revenues and fund balances, and will use the B&P response regarding the balance of the Budget Reserve Fund and the amounts of transfers required from the General Revenue Fund to the Budget Reserve Fund and the Cash Operating Reserve Fund. Oversight will reflect the potential transfer from the Budget Reserve Fund to the new Cash Operating Reserve Fund in FY 2018 and the required annual transfers beginning in FY 2019.

We are not able to estimate the required balances nor the future amounts which would be required for annual transfers among the various state funds, other than the five-year amortization of the initial amount required for the Budget Reserve Fund.

Finally, Oversight notes the proposal, if approved by the voters and implemented, would result in annual adjustments to the required balances in the Budget Reserve Fund and the Cash Operating Reserve Fund that can not be estimated at this time. External forces are likely to have a significant effect on state revenues which would in turn have an impact on required fund balances. If state revenue sources, other than the income tax, provided sufficient income to fund state operations and the required balances in the Budget Reserve Fund and the Cash Operating Reserve Fund, the proposal could lead to the eventual elimination of the state income tax.

Officials from the, Office of the Governor, the Office of the State Treasurer, the Missouri Senate, the Missouri House of Representatives, the Department of Revenue, the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, the Department of Insurance, Financial Institutions and Professional Registration, and the Department of Economic Development assume this proposal would have no impact on their organizations.

Appropriation Requirement for Tax Credits

The proposed constitutional amendment would, beginning July 1, 2017 (FY 2018), prohibit the state from issuing tax credits unless an appropriation was made for that purpose. The language did not include either an authorization or a requirement for the General Assembly and the Governor to approve implementing legislation; however, Oversight assumes such legislation would be approved if the amendment is approved by the voters.

Oversight assumes that the requirement to appropriate funds for tax credits would reduce the issuance of tax credits and will include additional revenue in the General Revenue Fund from $0 to Unknown fiscal impact for the potential reduction in tax credits beginning in FY 2018.

Oversight notes the restriction on tax credits proposal would be implemented July 1, 2017, if approved by the voters, and the potential impact to the Department of Revenue would depend on the implementing legislation approved by the General Assembly and the Governor.

Oversight notes that according to the 2015 Annual Fiscal Report from the Missouri Senate Appropriations Committee, the tax credit impact on the State Treasury has been:

in FY 2015	$513,311,853
in FY 2014	$549,760,534; and
in FY 2013	$512,911,235;

Oversight assumes the additional revenue due to the reduction in tax credit redemptions beginning with tax returns filed in FY 2018 would depend on the level of appropriations approved for tax credits. Oversight has no way of estimating whether the additional revenue from the tax credit reductions would be considered in the calculation of the required transfers to the Budget Reserve Fund. For fiscal note purposes, Oversight will show a positive impact from $0 to unknown, but notes the impact could be greater than the required transfers to the Budget Reserve Fund.
