

HB 373 -- OFFENSES AGAINST ANIMALS

SPONSOR: Hannegan

The bill specifies that a court must order a person found guilty of the offense of sex with an animal to submit to and pay for a comprehensive evaluation conducted by a licensed mental health professional prior to the person's sentencing. The court will use the evaluation to determine appropriate sentencing. If the court determines that the defendant is indigent, the state will pay for the evaluation. If the evaluation recommends treatment, the defendant will be ordered to complete an appropriate treatment program, as determined by the court, designed to address the underlying causative factors.

The bill also establishes that a person commits the offense of animal neglect if the person has a hoarding disorder causing the accumulation of custody or ownership of animals. The offense of animal neglect because of a hoarding disorder is a class C misdemeanor, unless the person has previously been found guilty of animal hoarding, in which case it is a class E felony. A court must order a person who has pled guilty or been found guilty of the offense of animal neglect due to having a hoarding disorder to submit to and pay for a comprehensive evaluation conducted by a licensed mental health professional prior to the person's sentencing. The court will use the evaluation to determine appropriate sentencing. If the court determines that the defendant is indigent, the state will pay for the evaluation. If the evaluation recommends treatment, the defendant will be ordered to complete an appropriate treatment program, as determined by the court, designed to address the underlying causative factors.
