Like many others I was overpaid in my unemployment benefits this past year in the amount of about $7200. I had started a new job in January 2020 and then the shut down happened in March. After ending my unemployment benefits I was notified that I was overpaid because I had quit the job in January and wasn't eligible for benefits as of March. I have just finished school for massage therapy in June and things are off to a slow start as expected with the pandemic I have no idea how I'm gonna pay back the $7200 to the state and I'm now at a point where I'm looking forward to my tax refund to help cover some extra bills and I'm worried it's going to be taken away from me. I missed the time to file an appeal and never able to get through to them on the phone.
